BACHELOR OF ARTS IN SUSTAINABILITY AND THE ENVIRONMENT

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

There’s never been a greater need for skilled professionals who understand the increasingly complex environmental issues of natural resource management. FIU’s online Bachelor in Sustainability and the Environment introduces students to factors that determine the sustainability of human institutions, organizations, cultures and technologies in different environments. This fully online program is multidisciplinary, with a focus on developing creative, adaptive solutions to real-world challenges. The curriculum addresses the connections between people in their social, natural and built environment, so that students will be able to think holistically about sustainability issues.

Sustainability is about meeting the needs of today without compromising the needs of the future. Graduates with a bachelor’s degree in Sustainability and the Environment will have the in-demand skills to launch and manage green initiatives in public, private and non-profit organizations.
