ONLINE MASTER OF SCIENCE IN HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Known as the MBA for the hospitality industry, FIU's online master's degree in Hospitality Management for executives is an applied business degree, designed for professionals already working in the hospitality field. Our executive master's degree gives you the flexibility to learn in your own space, at your own pace while you work. Students will gain specific managerial mastery to deepen their working business knowledge in the multibillion-dollar international industry and apply their current work experience toward their degree. They will also be able to augment their current career with advanced courses in finance, human resources, marketing, law, globalization and competitive methods for multinational companies and leadership. Graduates of The Chaplin School of Hospitality & Tourism Management are sought-after for their high-quality and relevant education.

With a wide range of careers, the hospitality industry is one of the largest sectors in the service industry and provides a vast number of opportunities for those with an MS in Hospitality Management.
